Review Shows Faculty Had Busy Social Year

By BARBARA DICKINSON

FCC faculty members have had other activities this year besides teaching or counseling.

The faculty began the school year with the Presidents reception for new faculty members.

New instructors on campus this year include Mrs. Eloise F. Hansen, business; Ellis Carraso and Morgan E. Shelley, health and physical education; Curtis D. Draper and William D. McLelland, art; Mrs. Barbara Faber and Mrs. Flo Brenninger, English; Dan Ozier, speech and English; Bruce L. Morris, English and social studies; Mrs. Durlene W. Nall, home economics, and Mrs. Lois Scarboro, assistant librarian.

New Evening Instructors

New instructors in the evening division, on part-time basis, were Alan E. Amend, English, reading and composition; Richard Darmanian, U.S. history; Edward B. Hibler, general psychology; Joseph F. McKinney, courses in musical instrument repair, and Wallace Taylor, U.S. history.

Curtis Lackey, coordinator and apprenticeship training instructor, is on leave of absence to assist with the vocational training program in Thailand. Walter E. Witt, art instructor, is studying art in Paris, and Noel D. Frodsham, history instructor, is in Denmark on a Fullbright Teaching Fellowship.

Miss Ethel McCormack, dean of the business division, will retire this year, after 30 years of service in the Fresno City schools.

John S. Hansen, FCC vice president, will leave to become president of the newly established Grossmont College in San Diego county. His new duties begin June 1, 1961, thus he will be unable to attend the graduation exercises.

Visit Schools

Taking time out from instruction, FCC counselors visited various surrounding schools informing students about FCC. John Castine, Norvel R. Caywood, Laurance Coons, Keith Emmert, and Mrs. Dorothy Bliss gave talks at Sanger, Reedley and Madera high schools, Mrs. Bliss attended several career days at Reedley and was consultant for the County Career Day at Easton.
