'Drink Retreat' Teachers Resign

EL CAJON (AP) — Four Grossmont College instructors who permitted students to drink beer and wine at an academic retreat have resigned.

Harold G. Hughes, president of the two-year college, said Tuesday that George H. Peranteau, Hugh W. Peterson Jr., Harold J. Loumeau and Andrew W. Neber resigned when faced with the prospect of dismissal by the trustees.

Seven students under 21 who attended the retreat last month have been suspended but will be allowed to continue in school.
