Easy SLO Tracking: Using Canvas to Improve Collaboration and Focus on Students

Where: Grossmont College, room 70-104

Calendar: 2019-2020 Professional Development Calendar

Created by: Rochelle Weiser

Description:

Presenter: Felicia Kalker Wouldn't all faculty work "Better Together" by having an easy way to look at Student Learning data at a glance? Wouldn't faculty rather spend time having discussions in the department about the best way to teach, the best assignments that engage students, and the best way to ensure that students are meeting the learning goals for your courses? The process of Student Learning Assessment is currently very difficult and tedious. The Canvas Outcomes Tool makes it easy to view charts and reports about learning outcomes data with just a few clicks. In the session, participants will view a demonstration of the Canvas Outcomes Tool, discuss its benefits for Student Learning and have time to practice hands-on. Using this EASY tool for Student Learning Outcomes Assessment we can: - Strengthen the campus community overall, by reducing stress, improving morale and saving time in a massive, widespread way across divisions and departments. - Increase collaboration between faculty within departments through effective communication about student learning. - Switch the Student Learning Assessment focus away from what might be an unpleasant and cumbersome compliance process, into an enjoyable activity that promotes our students' success and puts the classroom first. - Get SLO results quickly and efficiently in user-friendly reports that facilitate discussion.  Eligible for 1.5 hours flex credit ***

12:30pm - 1:50pm Designing an Inclusive Syllabus

Where: Grossmont College, room 53-539

Calendar: 2019-2020 Professional Development Calendar

Created by: Rochelle Weiser

Description:

According to the research, creating an inclusive learning environment begins with the course syllabus. The message expressed in a syllabus can illustrate to students whether one's course is inclusive or exclusive. Shifting the conditions for change with an equity lens can have a positive impact for the retention of students in the classroom. This workshop will be interactive and engaging. Faculty will collaborate on best practices on completing a syllabus that incorporates content that represents a diverse set of perspectives and experiences; prioritizes learning over content and/or rules; is framed as an invitation, rather than a contract and explicitly values differences in students' social identities and considers how these might affect students' experience in the course (Reinert Center's 2016-2017.) Varied modalities will be

3:30pm - 4:20pm Who are our students on your campus?

Where: Grossmont College, room 53-539

Calendar: 2019-2020 Professional Development Calendar

Created by: Rochelle Weiser

Description:

Presenter: Ute Maschke East Region Adult Education (ERAE), the consortium that brings together GCCCD and GUHSD's and MEUSD's adult education programs, has set the stage for shaping adult education for the 21st century and create a system for Education That Works. Transitions That Matter. Students Who Succeed. Through ERAE, more than 8,000 students have access to college readiness and career education programs, regardless of point of entry and level of preparation. ERAE is aligning regional programming to assist the Vision for Success to increase CDCP certificates, and short-term career training programs, while at the same time, decreasing the amount of time students spent accumulating classroom hours by offering noncredit co-requisites, in an environment that promotes flexible scheduling, innovative delivery methods, and short-term programs contributing to the earn-as-you-learn model. ERAE creates co-requisites and noncredit support courses as part of the implementation of AB705. It provides noncredit/adult education counseling and college for adult education students that include workshops on career development, college planning, self-advocacy and accessing college and community resources. Yet.....the consortium is still somewhat of a secret. This presentation strives to reveal this secret.  Eligible for 1 hour flex credit **

Presenter: Jennifer Rogers, Nadra Farina-Hess, Jeanette Calo Still searching for the perfect textbook, lab manual, homework exercises, or other ancillary materials for your course? A core tenet of the open education movement is the freedom to adapt and customize content into open educational resources (OER). The LibreTexts platform is currently home to over 100,000 pages of openly licensed content, or OER, from textbooks to visual aids to multimedia and more. Now, with the LibreTexts Remixer, you can quickly and easily create your own "LibreText" by remixing content from across LibreTexts 14 libraries. Learn about how LibreTexts can help you create your text, your way. Note: LibreTexts is a growing platform for OER; currently this is most beneficial for courses in biology, business, chemistry, engineering, geoscience, humanities, mathematics, medicine, physics, social sciences, statistics, and
